About the project

The Hornsea Project Three offshore wind farm received development consent in December 2020. Once operational, the Project could provide clean energy for approximately 3.2 million UK homes and help the UK meet its net zero commitments.

Orsted is committed to making it easy for stakeholders to get in touch and to keeping you informed of the progress of Hornsea Three and upcoming activities. This includes providing information on the likely duration of construction works. Local residents, businesses and relevant planning authorities will be informed in advance of construction works taking place, particularly those affecting Public Rights of Way, local roads or any works restricting access or disrupting services. Where practicable, in these instances arrangements will be made for alternative access, which will be established prior to works commencing. Local residents and businesses will be informed of particularly noisy activities and their duration, or if any works need to be undertaken outside of core working hours.

Finding out information

As our plans progress, local people will have questions about our activities. You can find out information on what we are doing through the following ways:

- The www.hornseaproject3.co.uk website is regularly updated with the latest information on the project.
- The community@hornsea3.co.uk email address is monitored regularly. All emails are acknowledged within 48 hours and a response provided within 10 days.
- Quarterly Community Newsletters are issued on our website. For a digital copy sent to your inbox email community@hornsea3.co.uk.
- Notices will be erected in public areas on Public Rights of Way crossed, altered or temporarily closed.
- A 24-hour help line where callers can speak to the dedicated Project Team or leave a voicemail which will be acknowledged within 24 hours or on the next working day.
- A Community Liaison Officer will be appointed to liaise between the local community and the Hornsea Three Project team to ensure open and efficient communications.
